TRIUMPH LEARNING PROMOTES DINA GOREN TO LEAD PUBLISHING OPERATIONS

New York, NY, June 26, 2007 – Triumph Learning LLC, the largest K-12 standards-based educational publisher and a Hights Cross Communications company, has promoted Dina Goren to Senior Vice President of Publishing Operations. Goren assumes responsibility for workflow efficiencies across Triumph Learning’s editorial, design, and production operations.

“Dina’s expert guidance and leadership were instrumental in helping Triumph achieve its publishing plans over the last three years,” “In her expanded role, Dina will be working with all departments within the development group and implementing efficiencies that will allow us to meet growth and profit targets in 2008 and beyond. Dina will also lead the development and implementation of our technology plan which will be a key component of our publishing efforts going forward.”

Goren joined Triumph Learning in March 2005 as Vice President of Production, and implemented cost-effective processes that have allowed the Company to output over 50,000 pages annually. Prior to coming to Triumph Learning, Goren held senior positions with New England Typographic Service (NETS) and Scholastic’s Education Group.

According to Linda Sanford, Executive Vice President and Publisher at Triumph Learning, “Dina is the most capable publishing operations person I’ve worked with in my 30-plus years in educational publishing. She is always a step ahead of best industry practices, and is the driving force behind our bookmaking process.”
